CAREER SUMMARY

I am a result-driven professional with expertise in workflow automation, RPA development, ETL pipelines, and data analytics. With a strong foundation in designing and implementing end-to-end automation solutions, I am committed to driving business efficiency and operational excellence. At Arete Healthtech, I developed UiPath bots to automate data extraction, reporting, and organization, while building ETL pipelines to streamline data integration across systems. I excel in automating workflows, creating dynamic Power BI dashboards, and designing auto-mailers to enhance productivity and optimize processes. Passionate about harnessing technology to transform operations, I thrive in environments where innovation, strategy, and business impact intersect.
